The Virginia School For The Deaf And The Blind
Staunton, Virginia

FOREWORD

We are proud of this, the second edition of White Columns, the name honoring the columns of Main Hall, the oldest building on the campus. VSDB is very beautifully landscaped. We enjoy daily trekking from dorm to classroom and back again. We are grateful for such a fine school.

Great hearts are here working for the welfare of deaf youth. Their desire for the success of the deaf is measured by the love in their hearts.

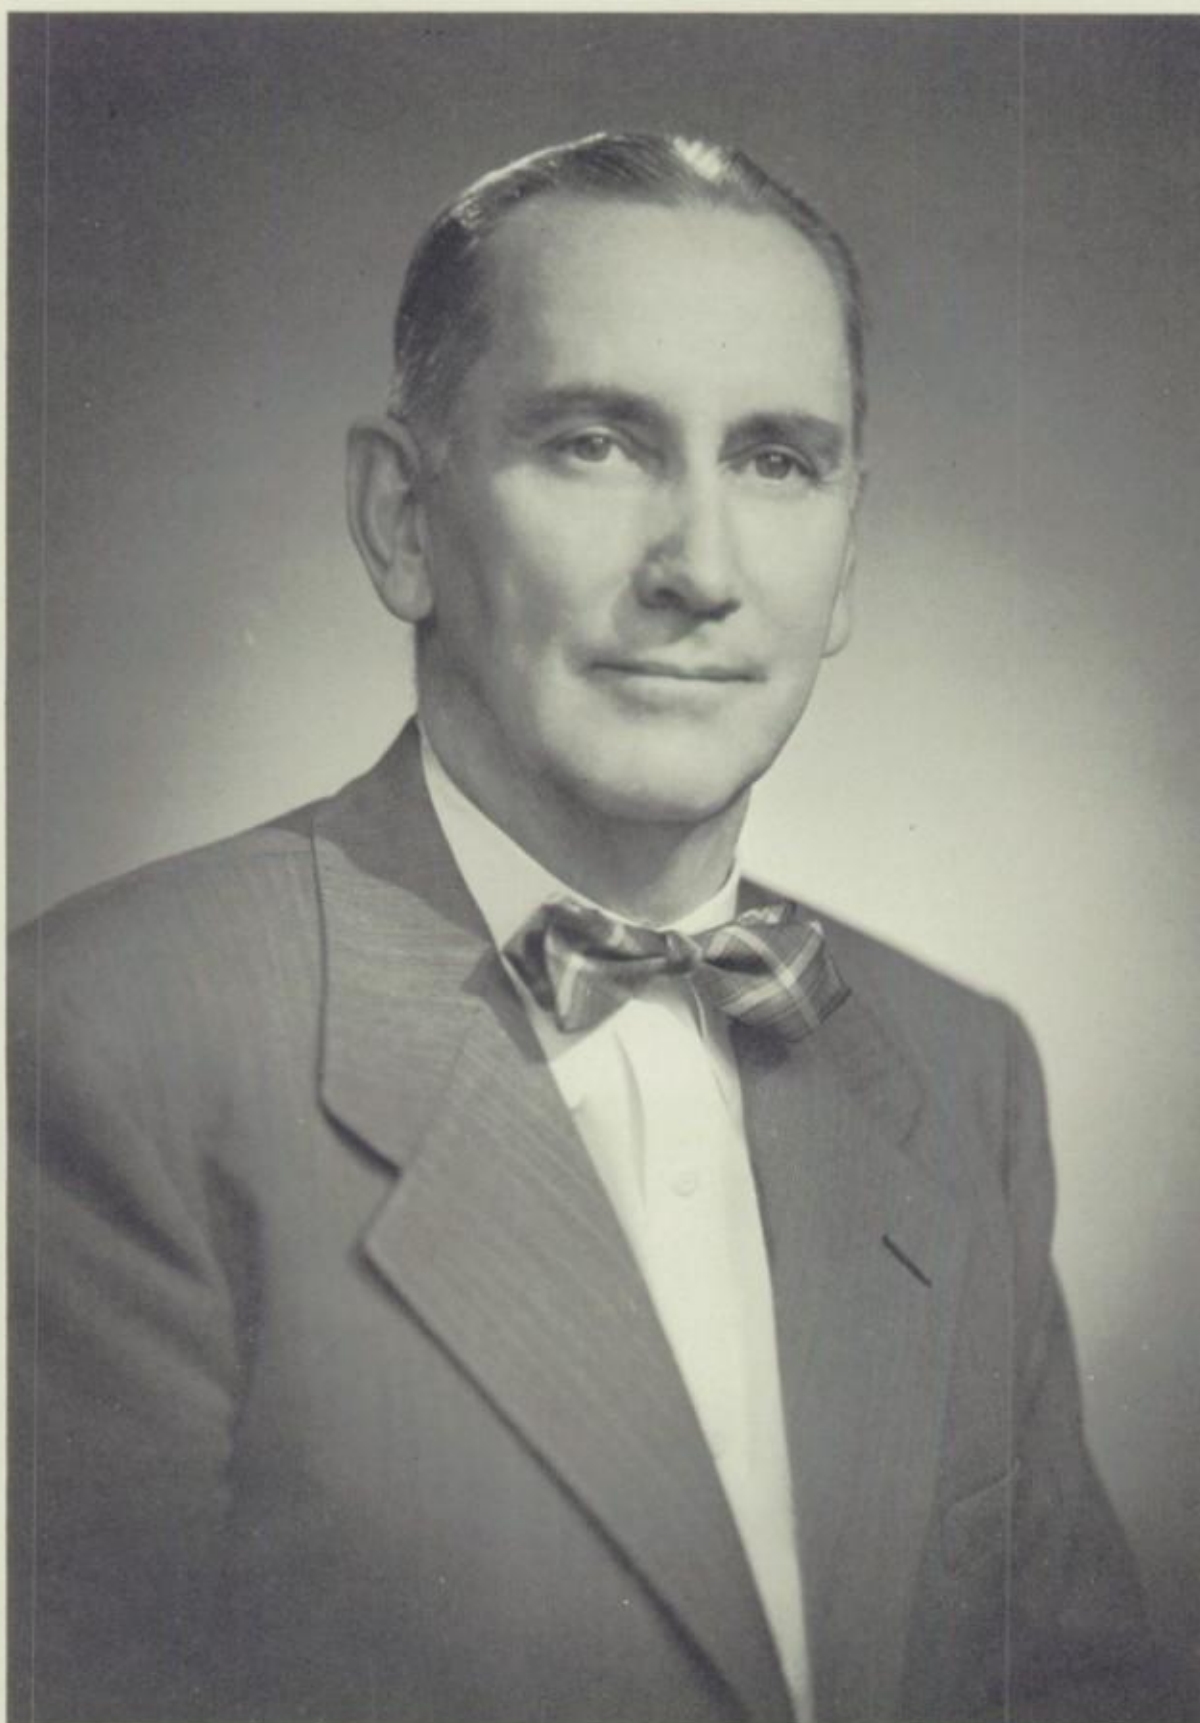

We take our hats off to our Old Dominion, a great State that has done what should be done in providing the fine school of which we are a part today. With gratitude we came; with gratitude we leave, although when the time comes to say adieu, the student finds it hard to do so. As one former student expressed it:

"In your blue and ancient valley,
Alma Mater, we have loved you;
Now the time has come to leave you.
Forth into the world we sally.

How my heart with sadness thrills
As these loving bonds must sever,
But I know I'll find you ever
In your blue Virginia hills."

DEDICATION

We take great pleasure in dedicating the 1963 White Columns to Mr. Thomas Carlton Lewellyn, a man of deeds, who retired on January 1. He has been teacher, counselor, coach, athletic director and above all, a friend. He has inspired us by his example to excel in all things possible and we are grateful that we have been a part of his course in the history of V.S.D.

AROUND THE CAMPUS

Where Supt. Shinpaugh and his family live.

Main Hall-- the oldest building on the campus--where the sleeping beauties are.

Byrd Hall--where the lollipop suckers are.

Darden Hall--"where the boys are."

Healy Hall--where the brains are sharpened.

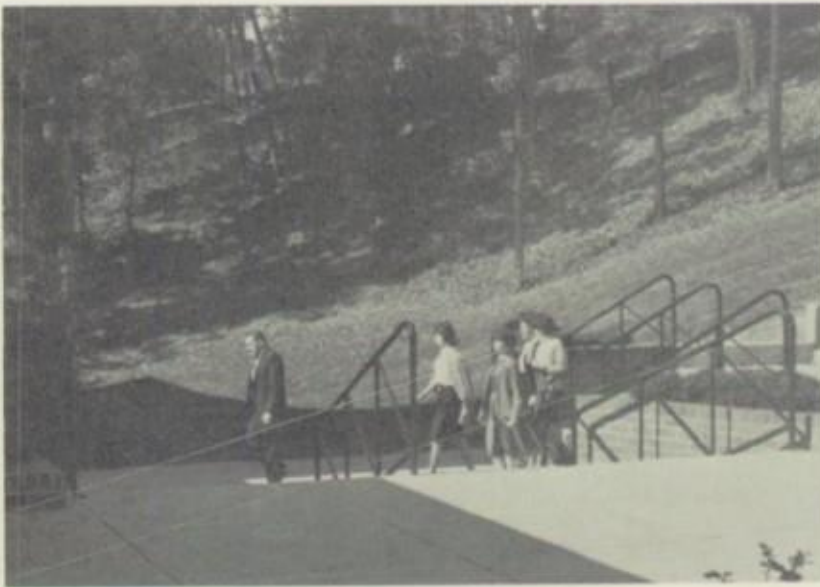

Lewellyn Gymnasium--where the bodies are shaped.

The old chapel--what scenes have passed beneath your cupola?

'Ten-shun, eyes left!

Trekking to the classroom

Fill'em up!

Entrenched in movie row.

Nail chewers they are, and pencil benders.

In her secret boudoir, she studies her bugology.

Swivelling the light fantastic with our Tennessee guests.

Ole Man Winter comes to V.S.D. and the fountain freezes.

Helen Smith--surprised by an unexpected visit from her parents.

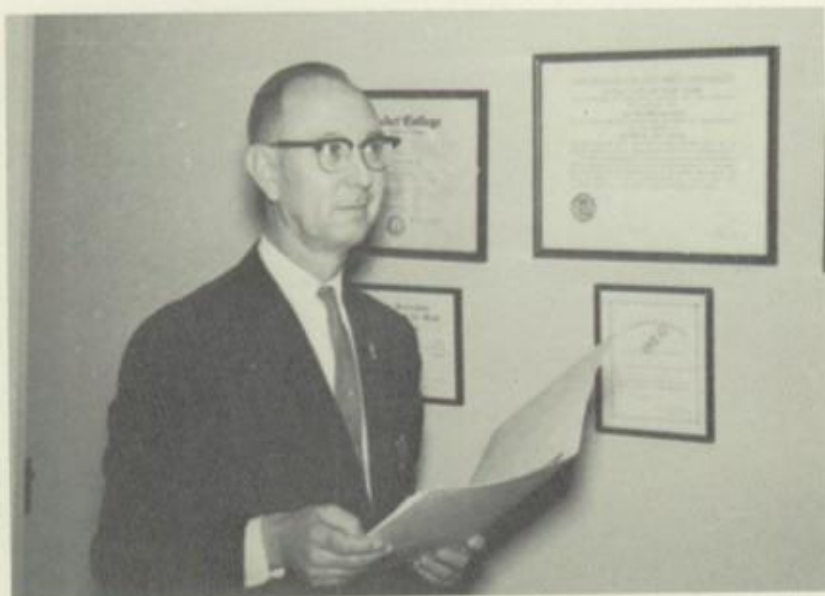

Apes from Gibraltar? No, Mother from Darden Hall.

Looking at V.S.D.B. from across the railroad tracks.

SENIORS

CLASS OFFICERS

President Leslie Kidd
 Vice-President Gary Dyke
 Secretary Peggy Norwood
 Treasurer George Oakes

ROBERT H. AREY, JR.

Played football and baseball. Safe on first, now watch him score!

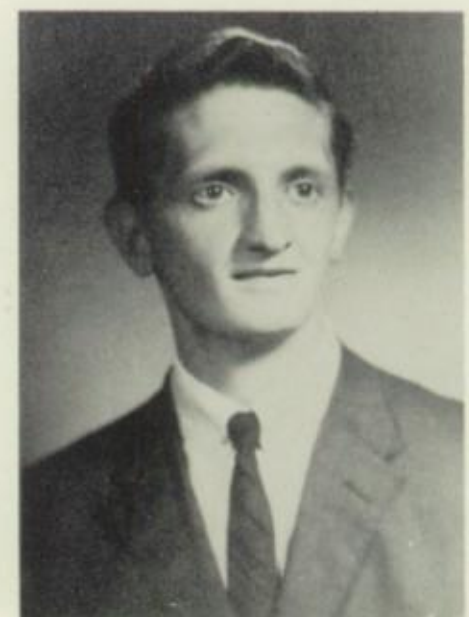

BETTY J. BLACK

Redheaded Cheerleader captain, ever ready to root for the Raiders. She was 1962 Homecoming Queen.

RONNIE E. BLAYLOCK

Stellar football quarterback and basketball player. He has a backbone, not just a wish bone, for the task ahead.

WILLIAM C. DUNCAN

A real shutterbug, tall in stature; tall in ideas.

GARY W. DYKE

Active in all sports, he is a live wire that will never get stepped on.

CHARLES D. HOWELL, JR.

Quiet, but sunny in disposition.

WILLIAM L. KIDD

Script editor, sports writer, editor of Twin Fountains. By his own efforts, he will rise!

WANDA J. KISER

A quiet, cheerful, friendly girl who ever doeth well her duty.

ELTON W. LAWHORN

His glory lies not in never failing but in rising everytime he fails.

CHARLES E. LYONS

Learning came hard, but it was good training for the years ahead.

EDWARD T. McKENNA

Subscription manager, printer par excellence; he works apace, and the results of his labor wears a strong face.

BETTY WAYNE MORGAN
